“SNOVA” : an ideal slope for first-time skiers !!

Q: What kind of slope is “SNOVA Shin-Yokohama”?

Why is it ideal for people who are skiing for the first time?

A: 1. Japan's only year-round indoor ski slope (completely enclosed facility):

There is no cold wind, and the temperature is stable at around 0° C.

You do not have to worry about freezing.

If you need a break at any time, a rest area is within a 30-second walk, where you can relax and enjoy a warm drink.

2. All necessary ski equipment is available for rental at “SNOVA Shin-Yokohama”:

You can come empty-handed and still enjoy skiing.

3. Well-designed slope layout:

If you are able to ski down the “SNOVA” slope from the top, you will be able to ski down beginner to intermediate-level slopes at outdoor ski resorts.

“SNOVA” slope gradient:

Lower section: 11degrees

Upper section: 14 degrees
